SteppingStone Adult Day Health Care, as the largest and most experienced Adult Day Health Care (ADHC) provider in San Francisco, is announcing the release of the results of a research study, “ A Pilot Study: An Examination of Five Case Studies Exploring the Effectiveness of the Therababy® in the Management of Seniors with Moderate to Severe Dementia”. The research study was sponsored by Founder Therababy®.

Benny Wong, LCSW and Aaron T. Hughe, D.C were the principle researchers whereas Rui Yan, BS was a research assistant for this research project. The research team spent a year designing the questionnaires and interviewing the caregivers, the participants and the social workers in the research study that took place at SteppingStone’s four ADHC centers and Self Help for the Elderly’s ADHC center.

A press conference will be held on Wednesday September 17th, 2014 at 2:30pm at SteppingStone Golden Gate Day Health, 350 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco to release the results of the research study. Besides traditional intervention methods such as psycho-pharmacology, cognitive-behavioral therapy or problem solving techniques, the Therababy® treatment program, is an innovative and promising intervention strategy to address the behavioral problems for the elderly with moderate to severe dementia.

If you would like to know more about the press conference and the research study, please contact Benny Wong, LCSW at 415-359-9210, ext16.
